NORTH POLE

Dear

My goodness, is it getting busy here at the North Pole. Mrs. Claus has been baking up a storm, the elves have been working non-stop in the toy workshop, Rudolph and the other elves have been resting up for their big fly around the world, and me? Well, I have been busy checking my list twice, trying to find out who's been naughty and nice!

A little elf told me that you have been nice and kind and helpful, and that you're working really hard in school. Because of the glowing reports that I've heard, I asked the workshop elves to create something extra special for you. Just remember that trying your best and BEING your best is important, even if no one is watching!

Have a very merry Christmas (and give your family lots of hugs)!

MERRY CHRISTMAS!
SANTA CLAUS

PS- Your cookies last year were DELICIOUS! They were so delicious, that Rudolph stole them right out of my pocket. I would love some more!
